Mature, healthy trees raise curb appeal and can lift resale value, while a hazardous tree deters buyers and complicates insurance. The calculation is about residential tree service roswell condition and species, not just size. Documented maintenance supports both value and insurability.