What is Plinko and How Does It Work?

At its core, Plinko is a game of chance based upon possibility and physics simulation. When a gamer initiates a round, they drop a puck (or ball) from the top of a pyramid-shaped board filled with obstacles-- typically pegs. As the disc falls, it bounces off these pegs in a randomized trajectory till it lands in one of the slots at the bottom.

Each slot corresponds to a specific multiplier, which figures out the payment for the round. The slots situated towards the center of the board normally offer lower multipliers (or even result in a loss), while the slots toward the outer edges generally provide substantially higher benefits, reflecting the lower mathematical probability of the puck landing there.
