Pitched or flat, every roof in Penylan has the same job to do: keep the weather out. That is no small task in a city where wet weather, driving rain and Atlantic winds are part of daily life, and where freeze-thaw cycles slowly work their way into tiles, joints and flashing. Redland Roofing Cardiff is an independent, family-run roofing business from South Wales that has served Cardiff and South East Wales for over 30 years. Penylan homeowners who need roofers Cardiff residents trust can call on the team for both pitched and flat roof work. Pitched roof work covers a wide range of jobs. Slipped, broken or missing tiles and slates, loose ridge tiles, failing dry verge and cracked flashing around chimneys and skylights are all common causes of leaks. The team carries out standard roof repairs, full roof replacement in tile and slate, new roof installation, chimney repairs including brickwork, repointing and flashing, and lead work. As general guidance, concrete and clay tile roofs last 40 to 60 years with maintenance, while good slate can outlast the building, so a well timed repair often adds years of life. Flat roofs are just as common in Penylan, on rear extensions, dormers and garages. EPDM rubber is a speciality, and the team also works with GRP fibreglass and felt. Cracked surfaces and opened joints are typical warning signs, and a felt flat roof generally lasts 10 to 15 years compared with 25 to 30 years or more for EPDM. Every job starts with a free assessment, and customers often mention John, who explains the problem clearly and shows photos of the issue. The team also covers nearby Roath, website Cyncoed and Llanedeyrn.
