

If you've been scouring the UK broker scene for genuine raw spreads from 0.0 pips, you're likely already overwhelmed by bold, often vague claims. "Tight spreads," "raw pricing," and similar buzzwords can feel like just marketing fluff unless paired with transparent fees and FCA regulation. This comprehensive guide cuts through the noise to help you find which UK brokers truly offer raw spreads starting at zero pips, what platforms they use, and what you need to know about safety, minimum deposits, and practicing before you put real money on the line.

Understanding Raw Spreads and Why They Matter

First off, "raw spreads" refer to the direct difference between the bid and ask prices coming straight from the liquidity providers, without any markup from the broker. When you see "0.0 pips raw spread," that suggests you're accessing the interbank pricing directly, resulting in potentially lower trading costs.

However, raw spreads usually aren't totally free. Brokers often charge a small commission per trade to compensate for not adding a markup on spreads. This structure favors traders who want transparent pricing and tighter spreads, especially important in fast-moving markets and scalping strategies.

Which UK Brokers Offer Raw Spreads from 0.0 Pips?

Among UK brokers regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA), a few stand out for offering raw or near-raw spreads, integrated with popular platforms like MetaTrader 4 and MetaTrader 5.

Broker FCA Registration Raw Spreads Starting From Trading Platforms Minimum Deposit TIOmarkets (TIO Markets UK Ltd) FRN 828573 0.0 pips MetaTrader 4, MetaTrader 5 £100 Plus500 (Plus500UK Ltd) FRN 509909 Typically > 0.6 pips (no raw spreads) Proprietary Platform (Web, Mobile) £100 IG Group FRN 195355 Variable, often from 0.6 pips (not raw spread account) Proprietary Platform, MetaTrader 4 (selected clients) £250

TIOmarkets - Raw Spreads from 0.0 Pips, FCA Regulated

TIOmarkets, operating under the FCA license FRN 828573, is a true raw spreads broker in the UK offering spreads from 0.0 pips. They integrate seamlessly with both MetaTrader 4 and MetaTrader 5 (MT4 and MT5), making them a solid choice for traders keen on advanced charting, algorithmic trading, and expert advisors (EAs).

With a minimum deposit of £100, TIOmarkets provides a reasonable entry point. The pricing structure involves tight raw spreads compensated by a transparent commission per lot, avoiding hidden markups. Their FCA regulation ensures client funds are segregated and offers peace of mind for UK traders looking for professional safety standards.

Plus500 - No Raw Spreads, But Regulated FCA Broker UK

Plus500UK Ltd (FRN 509909) is a well-known CFD broker in the UK but does NOT offer raw spreads starting at 0.0 pips. Instead, spreads generally start from about 0.6 pips or higher, with costs included directly in the spread rather than via commissions.

Plus500 provides an easy-to-use proprietary trading platform optimized for beginner and intermediate traders but lacks integration with MT4 or MT5. Minimum deposits stand at £100, similar to TIOmarkets, but for purists seeking raw spreads and the MetaTrader experience, Plus500 is not the primary choice.

IG Group - Leading FCA Broker, But No True Raw Spread Account

IG Group, holding FCA license FRN 195355, is a giant in the UK CFD broker space. They offer variable spreads that can be tight depending on market conditions but typically don't advertise raw spreads from zero. Their minimum deposit is higher at £250, reflecting their premium brand position.. Exactly.

IG provides proprietary platforms and offers MetaTrader 4 access, though mostly aimed at certain client segments. While highly regulated and safe, their pricing may not appeal to traders whose key priority is lowest possible spread with commission transparency.

MetaTrader 5 Broker UK – Why It Matters

The MetaTrader platform family -- especially MT4 and MT5 -- is the gold standard for millions of professional and retail traders worldwide. Using a MetaTrader 5 broker UK gives you access to a powerful suite of tools:

- Advanced charting with dozens of technical indicators.
- Algorithmic trading through Expert Advisors (EAs).
- Real-time price feeds with customizable alerts.
- Multi-asset trading: forex, CFDs, commodities, indices.

Brokers like TIOmarkets embracing MT5 support allow traders to execute strategies requiring precise raw spreads and highly customizable trading interfaces.

FCA Regulation and Safety Basics for UK Traders

It's essential to trade with FCA-regulated brokers to ensure your funds and personal information are protected under UK law. The FCA enforces strict rules on:

- Segregation of client money from broker operating funds.
- Transparent disclosure of fees and risks.
- Fair and accountable business practices.

Always double-check FCA registration using the official FCA Register. For example, TIOmarkets UK Ltd is listed as FRN 828573, so you know they're authorized and regulated to operate in the UK.

FSCS Protection: What It Covers and What It Doesn't

The Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) is a UK mechanism providing protection up to £85,000 per eligible claimant if a broker fails and cannot return client money.

However, FSCS doesn't protect against:

- Trading losses or poor investment decisions.
- Fraud or scams if the broker isn't FCA-regulated.
- Market volatility or execution issues.

Choosing FCA-regulated brokers offering segregation of client funds combined with FSCS protection maximizes safety for your deposits, but always manage risk responsibly.

Minimum Deposits and Starting Small

Getting started with raw spreads trading shouldn't require large upfront capital. For example:

- TIOmarkets asks for a £100 minimum deposit — a reasonable amount for testing raw spreads CFD trading with MT5.
- Plus500 and IG Group have minimum deposits of £100 and £250 respectively.

Always start with the minimum deposit sized appropriately to your risk tolerance. Never trade with money you can't afford to lose, especially when dealing with leveraged CFD instruments.

Demo Accounts and Practice Routines

Before committing real money, all UK FCA brokers typically offer free demo accounts that mimic real market conditions without risking capital. This is crucial because:

- You get to test raw spreads in real time with virtual funds.
- You can familiarize yourself with platforms like MT5 or MT4.
- Practice strategy development and execution under simulated conditions.

For example, opening a demo account with TIOmarkets (MetaTrader 5 broker UK) lets you experience the low latency and zero markup spreads without financial risk. Use demo mode extensively, including during volatile news events, to understand how spreads may widen or how execution TIOmarkets review uk works in practice.

Summary: What to Look For When Choosing a Raw Spread Broker UK

1. FCA Regulation: Always verify the broker's FCA registration number to ensure they are authorized (e.g., TIOmarkets UK Ltd FRN 828573).
2. True Raw Spreads: Check if spreads actually start at zero pips with a transparent commission model. TIOmarkets clearly offers this; Plus500 and IG typically do not.
3. Trading Platforms: Prefer brokers supporting MetaTrader 5 or MetaTrader 4 for advanced tools and better trading experience.
4. Minimum Deposit: Start with brokers allowing £100 or less to minimize upfront costs.
5. Demo Account Access: Practice in realistic market simulation to build confidence before risking real money.
6. Understand FSCS Protection: Recognize FSCS safeguards deposit risk but not market or trading losses.

By following these guidelines, you can find a dependable UK CFD broker offering raw spreads from 0.0 pips, empowered by FCA oversight, and supported by platforms like MetaTrader 5. From our review, TIOmarkets UK LTD stands out as the clear choice for traders seeking genuine raw spreads combined with robust UK safety and minimum deposit flexibility.

Happy trading!
