

Hail Solutions Paintless Dent Repair handles minor dent repair throughout the Kansas City metro, addressing everything from small parking lot dings to more noticeable panel damage. The paintless technique works well for a wide range of minor dent types, provided the paint surface itself has not been broken or cracked during the original impact. Brian Wilson's 23 years of experience means the team can typically assess quickly whether a specific dent is a good candidate for paintless repair during an initial inspection or mobile quote.
