After a story or explanation, give the learner time to put one idea into their own words. A younger child may prefer drawing a scene and explaining it aloud. Keep questions that need more detail in a notebook and agree which one to take back to the teacher. This gives the next session a natural beginning and helps parents follow what their https://education.clickdo.co.uk/online-quran-tuition-launches-new-online-islamic-studies-childrens-course/ child is learning.
